

Evan Tucker

Denver, CO | | (303)547-2780 | | eej.tucker@gmail.com

GitHub | | Portfolio | | LinkedIn

Summary:

Detail oriented, and creative full stack web developer with experience working on individual, and agile projects. An educational background in marketing and business administration. Refined technical skills through assistant teaching and tutoring at a coding boot camp. Extensive experience in customer service has fostered excellent interpersonal and communication skills.

Skills:

- HTML5
- CSS3
- JavaScript
- jQuery
- SASS
- Bootstrap
- Node.js
- React.js
- MongoDB
- MySQL
- Express.js
- RESTful API's
- Git
- Microsoft Office (Including Excel)
- Marketing
- Template engines

Experience:

Trilogy Education Services – University of Denver Coding Boot Camp

Teaching Assistant, October 2017 – Present

- Leverages interpersonal, leadership, and technical skills to assist students in learning the fundamentals of computer science, and web development, as well as helping students understand, complete, and debug projects/assignments using a variety of programming languages, including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Node

Senior Tutor, August 2018 – Present

- Assists students both in person, and remotely to help them understand the core concepts of both front and back end web development languages. Live coding demo's for students as well as helping to debug code.

Cherry Creek Country Club

Golf & Member Services, May 2014 – October 2017

Projects:

Clicky Game

A React memory game with bootstrap, and an animation library.

Friend Finder

A character matching game with a node-express backend, a RESTful API, and styled with Materialize.

Hangman Game

A themed hangman game built with jQuery, JavaScript, HTML, CSS and Bootstrap.

Education:

University of Colorado, Denver

Bachelor of Science in Business Administration
(Marketing Focus)

Trilogy Education Services

University of Denver Coding Boot Camp,
Certified Full Stack Web Developer